Arrangements Perfected for Rites at St.
Jerome's Church

MANY VISITORS COMING

Three Thousand Men Expected to March in Parade--Former Pastors Coming

Twenty-five priests from the Pittsburg diocese and over 2,000 visitors are expected on Sunday for the corner stone laying of St. Jerome's Catholic church, at the corner of Seventh street and Washington avenue. Imposing ceremonies will attend the laying of the corner stone and a parade in which it is expected 3,000 persons will be in line will be a feature. Rev. C. A. McDermott of Mc-Keesport has been especially delegated by Bishop Regis Canevin to have charge of the rites, which will take place at 3 o'clock. Rev. B. N. Ax-macher, assistant pastor of St. Jerome's church will be the general supervisor of the ceremony. Rev. Robert Mc-Donald of Birmadock, the first pastor of the church is expected to act as the deacon, and Rev. T. A. Conner of Hazelwood the first assistant pastor will act as sub-deacon. Rev. C. M.
Hegertich of Allegheny will preach the sermon. M. T. Crowley will be the chief marshal of the parade.

The parade will start at the time of the arrival of the Sunday afternoon trains. The line of march will be down McKean avenue to Ninth street up Ninth to Fallowfield, thence up Fallowfield to Third street, thence up Third and out Washington to Eighth street, and back to the church, where the corner stone laying ceremonies will take place. Automobiles will carry the clergy and elderly men unable to march.

The local delegation of men for the parade will form in line between Third and Fourth streets in time for the following trains: There will be two or possibly three bands. Chief Marshal Crowley has named the following men as his aides: George Newton, John Fries, J. K. Rickey, John Martin, D. A. Oates, J. B.
Schaffer, John Kuth, P. J. Connelly, F.
G. Bailey, George Pepperney, Michael Dooley, William Feeney, Patrick Acton, John Sullivan, John W. Carroll, Samuel Clayburgh, C. J. Mogan, Tom P. Sloan, Joseph Hochendanner, Henry Hanger, P. Cavanaugh, C. Minehan, Fred Randon, C. B. Buchanan, John J.
Hennion, George Bailey, James Welsh, Edward Gallagher, Thomas Mangin, Joseph Brand, W. J. Martin.

At 5 o'clock the visiting clergymen will be entertained at dinner at the Washington Hotel.

The corner stone was prepared today for laying. A Latin inscription which translated is "Church of St.
Jerome's" has been cut in the stone.
Numerous documents, papers and other articles will be put in the receptacle in the stone.

Elks Will Go Visiting

Trip Planned by Charleroi and Donora Lodges to Pittsburg

Arrangements are being made by members of Charleroi Lodge, No. 494, B. P. O. Elks, to pay a fraternal visit to Pittsburg Lodge No. 11, on next Wednesday evening, May 1. D. R.
Hormell is head of a committee looking after matters of preparations for a trip. It is expected that 200 members of the Charleroi lodge and the Donora lodge, a recently formed organization will go. A special train will be run from Brownsville to Pittsburg, leaving the former place at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Macbeth-Evans Glass
Company to Enlarge
Decorating Room

NOW ERECTING FACTORY

Although the new factory being built by the Macbeth-Evans Glass company that will figure as an addition to their local factory plant is not more than started yet, it is said that plans are out for further and more extensive improvements. Chief among these it is understood will be a three-story addition to the decorating department of which W. A. Miksch is superintendent.

This addition according to information received will be constructed at the back or river-side of the present decorating room. It will extend back about as far as the mould rooms do now.

Work on the new plant is proceeding as rapidly as possible. The frame work of steel has all been put up and the work of laying brick is now going on. This plant is to be used partly for the manufacture of novelty ware.

The Macbeth-Evans company has considerable ground space yet to be used and may make more extensive additions. It is the intention to build as soon as possible an addition to the present plant at the southern end of the plant, where a portion of Eighth street was recently purchased.

Glass Worker Dies.

Ulrich Puchinger, aged 29 a blower at Macbeth-Evans Glass plant died Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock, at his home. He was a well known man, and a member of Charleroi Order Royal Arcanum. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with services at St. Cyril and Methodius church. Interment will be

BREWERY IS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Monessen Establishment of Independent Brewing Company Suffers to Extent of $5,000 From Evening Conflagration

Fire supposed to have started from a spark from a passing locomotive did damage to the extent of $5,000 at the Monessen Brewery of the Independent Brewing company Wednesday night. The fire was discovered at about 9:30 o'clock by an employe.
The fire was in the machine and repair shops and there the damage was heaviest. Two or three carloads of grain was practically destroyed by water.

The brewery has a private fire department. This department goes to work at the scene of the fire soon after the discovery while the Monessen volunteer department was summoned. The building was considered a fireproof building but had it not been for the prompt discovery it would probably have been more damaged.

Ammonia tanks burst in a room above the machine shops when they were reached by the heat and caused the firemen considerable trouble. The machine shops were practically put out of commission.

PHOTOPLAY SCENES ARE CARRIED OUT

Young Woman Bookkeeper Marches Schoolmaster to Bastile at Point of Revolver-- Hat
Source of Trouble

When Harry Tilton, who is a teacher in the Burgettstown public schools, asked Miss Margaret Gribben, through the medium of a mind reader at a vaudeville show in that stead little town to kindly remove her hat, she didn't do a thing but whip a revolver out of her hand bag, and covering the young schoolmaster in the manner of the bad men in the moving pictures, for which she seems to have had a penchant, told him to travel, and at the point of the revolver marched him out of the house.
Once outside the theatre, with the gun pointed at the small of the young man's back he was marched to the office of a justice of the peace, but there the young woman's nerve weakened and although she had delivered her capture up to the officials —just as they do in the moving pictures—she did not know what charge to make and the captive was released.

Then, as an insult to injury, the management of the theatre, Roy Kuhn, swore out a warrant for the arrest of the young woman on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms. She gave bail for her appearance at a hearing before Justice of the Peace of A. B.
Cochrane of McDonald, where she lives.

This sensational episode was pulled off in the theatre of the Tri-State Amusement company at Burgettstown Tuesday evening. Miss Gribben whose home is in McDonald, is said to be 30 years old and is employed as a bookkeeper at the Pittsburg and Erie coal mine at Burgettstown.

She was a frequent visitor at the moving picture show which runs vaudeville. It is stated that she persistently refused to remove her hat, although frequently requested to do so. Tuesday evening, it is stated a woman mind-reader was giving a performance and in it she requested some of the audience to write items on a slip of paper and she would endeavor to read what had been written. Tilton, who occupied a seat in the rear of Miss Gribben, wrote, "Ask the lady in front to please remove her hat."

Then it was that Miss Gribben is said to have pulled off her wild west stunt. Tilton, also had some moving picture experience and when he realized that the lady had the drop on him he is said to have promptly raised his hands above his head and to have very discreetly obeyed instructions to the letter. Both principals are well and favorably known and the affair has created a tremendous sensation in that little burg of Bur-gettstown. Young men there will be careful hereafter how they make remarks about women who desire to obscure the picture screen with their new spring headgear.

SUMMONED TO DO JURY WORK

The following from this community have been drawn to serve as traverse jurors at the May term of court:

Monday, May 27—C. C. Crill, Ira Duvall, Charles Lutes, S. R. Scott, Frank Taylor, R. J. Whitehead, Charleroi; Joseph T. Beazell, Twilight; Joseph Davenport, Speers; Harry Scott, North Charleroi; John Wiley,

Extensive Repairs For Lock No. 2

It is expected that the steamer Slackwater of the government river service will be ordered shortly from its headquarters at North Charleroi government yards to Lock No. 2 to make extensive repairs. Two new steel gates have recently been manufactured at the North Charleroi government shops for Lock No. 2, and will be set by the crew of the Slack-water, under direction of Capt. James T. Nutt.

The outer lock at Lock No. 2 will be pumped out. New wickets and new valves will be installed.

MONESSEN YOUNG COUPLE WEDDED

At 8 o'clock Monday morning in St. Leonard's church (Monessen Rev.
Father A. J. Wigley performed the wedding ceremony of Miss Dorothy Elliot and Ralph William Brautegam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Brautegam. The bride was attended by Miss Corinne McGinley and Mr. Brautegam's brother Anthony was best man. Immediately following the wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents at which the members of the two families and their immediate friends were present. The young couple are absent on an extended wedding trip, after which they will take up their residence in Suterville where the groom has recently purchased the Hotel Brown. Both young people are well known here.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR MEET AT ANNUAL FUNCTION

Past Grands
in Session

at Donora--Three Hundred There from County

Members of the Past Grand's Association of Washington county Odd Fellows and a number of Odd Fellows not members of the association were guests of Castner lodge at Donora Wednesday evening on the occasion of their regular monthly meeting. There were about 74 past grands present, and visitors swelled the total number to about 300. Special cars conveyed lodge men from Washington, Canonsburg and Monongahela. There were
Lodge, No. 1030, I. O. O. F. attended.
Fifteen new members were received into the association, which now numbers nearly 150. The next meeting will be held in Finleyville in July.

Summer Will Witness
Completion of Work--

ABUTMENTS ARE BUILT

Work which was for a time suspended on the reconstruction of Lock No. 1 in the Monongahela river will be resumed shortly by a government force and barring accidents will be finished this summer. The government by constructing this lock itself has saved it is estimated about $80, 000. Col. T. P. Roberts is in charge of the work, with J. M. Myers as his assistant.

Both the locks are really in working order now, but the dam has not been completed. The electrical and compressed air apparatus has been thoroughly tested in the locks and found to perform their duties satisfactorily. The steam plant operates well. A water turbine plant tends to reduce the cost of operating.

The dam intersects with P. and L.
E. abutments, on one end. These abutments were constructed far out into the river over the dam by the railroad to be used for additional yard space.

Brilliancy and Enchantment at Second Division Tournoi

Members of McKean Com-
Event at Pittsburg

Brilliancy and enchantment characterized the most successful tournoi in the history of Second Division Knights Templar, of Pennsylvania which was held at Exposition Hall at Pittsburg Wednesday evening. Gar-geous gowns, immaculate evening clothes of the sir knights with an occasional full Templar uniform showing here and there, myriads of glittering lights, with the dignified passion cross and the mallese cross, crown and sword of Knights Templar gleaming in the decorations—all these lent to the unusual gaiety of the occasion.

Masons, with their ladies and sons under 21 years of age to the number of nearly 8,000 made the occasion memorable. Past officers of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania constituted honor guests. Most notable among these honor guests was Right Eminent Grand Commander Herman Junker of Pittsburg. Commander there also for the event from Donora was Deputy Grand Commander Harry E. Buckingham, who will be at the coming annual state convocation to be held in Pittsburg in May to succeed Grand Commander Junker. The affair was the principal event in Masonic circles preceding the fifty-ninth annual state convocation to be held in Pittsburg.

The decorative scheme was exceptionally beautiful. The white and black, Knight Templar colors were intertwined with ropes and garlands of pink and white roses. Red, white and blue lights twinkling successfully giving the effect of stars and particularly attractive. An orchestra and a band were hidden behind a bank of palms. The grand march, led by Herman Junker and daughter, took place at 10 o'clock.

Charleroi contributed well to the brilliance of the function. Capt. J.
K. Healy of McKean Commandery was in charge of a corps of Red Cross nurses. Among those from this vicinity who attended were: E. B. Anderson and daughter, Monessen; Dr.
E. L. Collier, Roscoe; Mr. and Mrs.
W. C. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Landerfelt, Monongahela; Dr. and Mrs.
A. N. Booth, Dr. E. C. French; Miss Loretta Young and sister; Dr. Elsworth; Thomas Easton and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Lou M. Mitchell of Belle Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. J. D.
Barryman and son Duncan; Capt. and Mrs. J. K. Hein; Frank Bly; Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Manon, of Charleroi. A special car conveyed the Monongahela valley people home after the affair was over, leaving Pittsburg at about 2:30 o'clock this morning.

WAGON FREIGHT.

In view of the "holer" that is being put up on all sides over the excessive railroad freight and express rates, which are acknowledged to add very materially to the cost of living, how many people ever gave the subject of wagon freight any consideration? Pretty nearly all the food products that are consumed in this country are subject to wagon freight, which is the most expensive kind of transportation, and which for lack of passable highways and good roads adds more to the cost of living than all the railroad freight rates, which compared with wagon freight rates, are extremely low.

Representative Stephens of Nebraska who has given the subject considerable thought and investigation, says that this country pays approximately every year $2,500,000,000 for wagon freight. Think of it—two and one-half billion dollars. "This sum," he says, "is a tremendous tax upon our resources, because of the lamentable conditions of our roads. In France where the Government builds and maintains all the main wagon roads of the country the wagon freight is moved for less than half what it costs in this country. If we could improve our highways so that the present load could be doubled we would save in wagon freight in this country annually about one and one-quarter billion dollars or enough to build three Panama Canals and leave a balance. And while this enormous saving is perfectly feasible and has been actually realized by other nations, we go on complacently voting millions for the improvement of the navigation on Lost Creek and for a public building at Sandance and other equally unimportant places where the Government could hire the service for one-fourth the interest on the investment.

"The tax levied for the maintenance of the courts, Army and Navy, et cetera, is a burden on the producer and no material results can come back to the people as a result of these expenditures. This money is gone forever. It is a clean waste, but the tax levied for good roads is not a tax at all, but an investment which pays back to the people an enormous dividend."

PARCELS EXPRESS

Charleroi has two trolley lines leading in and out of the town. One of these lines will carry parcels for a minimum rate between towns, provided the owners will sign a release for responsibility on the part of the company in case the parcel is lost in transit. The other company will not carry parcels at all on its passenger cars. It has, however, a freight car which makes a trip each way once a day which does not afford a full measure of convenience to the public, as there are no agents to receive or handle the freight at the various stopping places, and the consignee must look after this matter himself.

What is needed now is a parcel express service on every passenger car of every trolley line that holds a franchise in the State. An arrangement of this kind would be of inestimable convenience to the public. As it now is a trolley company can perform this service or not, as it may elect, but it should be a requirement with each franchise in return for the public favors and privileges granted.
It could be made a profitable venture in most cases, but its rate of charges should be limited by law and the service made mandatory. This is one of the public rights that is let go by the board, and one which should be put into execution at the earliest possible moment.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Outside of running for office and collecting money the most difficult thing is making application to an unknown man for a favor.

If a man can't support himself on his present income and gets married without the wisdom of picking a woman with money, what in the world is he going to do?

Some time possibly the "Ocean Roll" will be out of style as a means of piano torture, but the hour is not yet.

Some politicians are afraid to either stay long or sit down when they go visiting for fear they might be asked some pertinent questions.

A man is more afraid to go to the dentists usually than he would be to go to war.

It actually seems that some dentists are popular men, in spite of their extracting qualities.

Whenever an also-ran wishes to appear as though he had really been worn out with work, he goes around telling people he is a former newspaper man.

Some people spend a life time finding out that waste paper boxes are to put waste paper in, and die before they get around to using them.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"How many appreciative people do you find on whom you confer favors?" asked a Charleroi woman at a small gathering in her home a few evenings ago. "Not many, when you come to look back and recall your personal experiences. It has been my observation that the class of people who are always asking personal favors are the ones who accept them as a matter of course and think nothing about them. I am all the time trying to do favors for people, and I've had some lively tilts with my family on this subject, who call me an 'easy mark.' While I stoutly defend my position, and deny selfishness, I am pained to realize that I have more often gotten the 'hot end of the poker' than otherwise.

"There is one exception, however, which I remember with pleasure.
This is a Belgian woman who lives out in the country, and raises produce to sell. About a year and a half ago I gave her a coat which while out of style was good and serviceable for outdoor wear. The woman was very grateful and thanked me cordially until, as she said, 'I was better paid.' Since then she has constantly been bringing me garden produce, green onions, rhubarb, and similar stuff, for which she absolutely refuses to take any pay. The other day I said to her:
'You are not indebted to me. I want to pay you for your stuff.'
"Don't you bother about me," she said, 'I want to do what I think is right. People who are selfish and take everything without doing anything in return never come out right at the end.'"

In discussing the Titanic disaster the other day one of a group of men expressed surprise that so many as 900 sailors and other attaches were required on a single vessel.
"That's not all surprising," said one of the men, "when you stop to consider the amount of help similar concerns on land require. For instance I happen to know the number of people the Fort Pitt Hotel in Pittsburg employs. How many would you think are employed there?"
"Various guesses were made—from one to three or four hundred, and the man said:
"It is approximately 1,000, sometimes a few more, and sometimes a few less, but the management employs on an average of 1,000 people being on the payroll all the time. Thus you can readily see that it would require all of 900 people to man a big ocean liner like the Titanic."

LOSES TASTE FOR MOSQUITO

Fish Imported to Kill Insect Change Their Diet and Turn to Shrimp.

Chinamen of various American cities have been endeavoring to rid their neighborhoods of mosquitoes by stocking their ponds with little imported fish which eat the mosquito larvae.
That the plan has in drawbacks is indicated by the following from the Hawaiian Star: "A war of the races is going on in local fresh water and broodish waters and there has been slaughter in the ranks which threatens the extinction of at least one species of Hawaiian fresh water fish.
The tender and toothsome Oyu nakai, the little fish which a comparatively short time ago one might buy already cooked and wrapped in leaves in the fish market or from peddling natives, is becoming so scarce that its entire disappearance seems to be only a matter of time. The frogs and the top-minnows are accomplishing its downfall, these voracious creatures greedily devouring its spawn.
"The topminnows or mosquito fish, as they are called, are thriving amazingly in the local ponds, but, like the mosquitoes, have diverted their tastes from the food which it was intended they should subsist on. The mosquitoes found chicken more to its taste than came rat and the topminnow's diet seems to have changed from shrimp to shrimp. It is true that where there is nothing to eat but mosquito larvae the minnows devour them fast enough, but when shrimp and shrimplets both
treated impartially by the ravenous little fish.

"Out Mosquitoes and Kallal way, in the streams which empty themselves into the sea and in which shrimplets abounded by the million a short time ago, practically none are now to be found. The topminnows have killed them off. In the fish ponds thousands of transparent larva lying along the shore tell the tale of the havoc wrought by the mosquito fish among the eggs."

Rochester, N. Y.—"I have a daughter 12 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep her home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what your medicine has done for my child."—Mrs. RICHARD N. DONHAM, 311 Exchange St., Rochester, N. Y.

Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years.
I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

I had taken other medicines but did not find relief."—Miss CORA E. FOSTER, Stoutsville, Ohio, R.F.D., No. 1.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what

Popular Confidence An Asset to a Bank

The confidence of the people is one of the best assets a bank can have.

The bank that gains and holds the popular good-will must show itself worthy of the trust.

That the Bank of Charleroi has the people's confidence, its deposits of more than $1,500,000 bears eloquent testimony.

It is the constant aim of the officers and directors, by improvements to service and in-

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen and sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep these signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think Mr. Merchant "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroad need to do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Store are a very good example—they are constantly advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads found about Charleroi, then it apparently will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, so

Famous English Parish.

In addition to its alien population, bygone Stepney was credited with a large number of the citizens of other towns on account of the current notion that all children born at sea belonged to the parish of Stepney, a notion probably due to the large number of sailors who lived there. Paupers who had been born at sea were gravely sent to Stepney from all parts of the country, and from time to time the law courts had to be called upon to decide against their claims.—London Chronicle.

FOUR FLEA POWER OF WATCH

Few pieces of machinery show more wonderful features than that of the watch. As a general proposition it may be stated that a watch is the smallest, most delicate instrument of the same number of parts that has ever been devised.

A blacksmith strikes several hundred blows on his anvil in a day and as a matter of course is glad when Sunday comes, but the roller jewel of a watch makes every day—and day after day—432,000 impacts against the fork, or 157,680,000 blows during the course of a year without stop or rest—or some 3,553,600,000 blows during the space of twenty years, the period for which a watch is usually guaranteed to keep good time.

But the wonder of it does not cease here says the Michigan Manufacturer. It has been calculated that the power that moves the watch is equivalent to only four times the force used in a sea's jump. The watch power is therefore what might be termed the equivalent of a four flea-power. One horse-power would suffice to operate 370,000,000 watches.

PAY FOR THE FRENCH NAMES

Frank P. Ward, writing for Harper's Weekly, declares that the men who cater to the hunger and thirst of the wealthy in New York make a profit of anything up to 300 per cent. For this condition he blames a class of restaurant patrons whom he describes as "persons who turn up their noses at eggs with grated cheese, 25 cents, but go into ecstasies over omelets à la reine, $1—exactly the same dish." To descend a little in the scale, says Mr. Ward, "beef and" establishments are highly profitable; a fact which, as he points out, goes to show that if these can coin money at five and ten cents a "throw," the others can do better.

There is undeniably a deal of sound sense in Mr. Ward's arraignment of ultra-fastidious persons who ecstatically pay 25 cents for food and 75 cents additional for a French name to go with it. The person of that temperament is evidently convinced that grub by a more genteel name would taste as sweet, and is determined to eat it by the other name, cost what it may. Why eat "vittles" when, by merely paying a quadruple price, one may have nouriture? Why, indeed? If French names for Yankee dishes serve best to keep in circulation the money of the finical rich, by all means put them up in French.—Manchester Union.

He Eats No Corn.

"I am deeply fond of corn on the cob," said the mathematician, "but I haven't eaten any this season."

"What's the matter? It doesn't cost much."

"Well, that all depends upon how you look at it. Take it in the market, it's cheap enough, twenty-five or thirty cents a dozen ears. But I have to eat in restaurants, and there I would have to pay ten cents an ear or $1.20 a dozen for it. Now, where do you suppose the restaurants get the courage to charge that much for serving hot what costs them only one-fourth that much in the raw state? If the corn were difficult of preparation for the table, if it took much trouble in the cooking or if it required elaborate sauces, it would be different. But corn on the cob is the simplest thing a restaurant can serve, and for one, I don't purpose to let them make any 300 per cent. profit out of me on their old corn."

What, we wonder, would happen to the London manager nowadays who should dare to put on the stage such a version of a Shakespearean tragedy as was played in Ireland a hundred years ago? Mrs. Earle in her book, "Memoirs and Memories," gives a Dublin play bill in 1793, which is worth quoting.

The play was "the tragedy of Hamlet," originally written and composed by the celebrated Dan Hayes of Limerick and inserted in Shakespeare's works." The title role is taken by a gentleman "who between the acts will perform several solos on the patent bagpipe, which performs two tunes at the same time."

Oh, How I Itched!

What long nerve-racking days of constant torture—what sleepless nights of terrible agony—itch—itch—itch, constant itch, until it seemed that I must tear off my very skin—then—Instant relief—my skin cooled, soothed and healed!

The very first drops of D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema stopped that awful itch instantly; yes, the very moment D.D.D. touched the burning skin the torture ceased. A 25c bottle proves it. D.D.D. has been known for years as the only absolutely reliable eczema remedy, for it washes away the disease germs and leaves the skin as clear and healthy as that of a child.

All other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

Cheap Mode of Living.

With no rent to pay, no street car fares or other of the usual unavoidable city expenses to meet, the barge and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal lives of any of the urban working classes in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their craft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to enable the boats to pass under the bridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and constitute the vegetable diet.

Brain Drill With Fingers.

Brain drill with the fingers is the latest recommendation to those who would be efficient. It is not a system of massage that is recommended, but simply the regular use of the hands. The knots, sew, do fretwork, anything and everything, in fact, that calls for manual skill, you want to have an active, resourceful and vigorous brain, people are told. The truth of this statement is said to lie in the fact that every manual act the hand is directed by the brain. Every act reacts upon the brain, strengthening and stimulating it.

Growth of Insanity.

Our strenuous life, high living and self-indulgence produces an increasing number of mentally defective each year. In every community of 750 persons in New York state there is one insane person. During the last decade insanity has grown faster than the population. At present there are 32,658 persons in New York state known to be insane, all except 150 of them being in state institutions. Doubtless there are hundreds besides, whose residence has been in this state, who are now in private sanitariums in other states.

GAMBLERS OF HIGH POSITION

A little over a century ago there were hundreds of great ladies in England who made their drawing rooms regular gambling dens, and many in the most exacting social positions lost, or won, as the case might be, thousands of dollars in a single night's play. The royal princesses did not hesitate to play for the highest stakes and a faro bank was a portion of the paraphernalia of Dame Fashion.

Queen Elizabeth was fond of cards, but she was inclined to be somewhat peevish and lost her temper at the game. Mary, Queen of the Scots, carried her infatuation to the extent of wagering her personal attire on a game. She would play continually from Saturday to Monday, and sacrifice her wardrobe, if necessary, to do so. Queen Ann of Austria was fairly pursued by ill luck, we are told, but she is said to have played without passion or greed.

Anne Bolera was an inveterate gambler, as were all the wives of Henry VIII., with one exception. Catherine of Aragon did not gamble, as she had no love for the card table. Nell Gwyn lost 400 guineas, one night to the niece of a notorious gambler, Mazarin, who afterward died insolvent, having lost at cards an enormous fortune. Cards are still popular among the hostesses of many of the English drawing rooms, but not to the extent they were a century ago.

HUMOR IN HIS EXAGGERATION

Jabish Furlong's Recital Illustrates the Characteristic That Makes Maines Stories So Amusing.

Novel and exaggerated smiles and comparisons characterize Maine speech. Instead of such commonplace as "As light as a feather" and "As dark as a pocket," the comparisons are likely to be "Forty pounds lighter than a straw hat" and "As dark as the inside of a cow's mouth."

And it is this same humorous exaggeration that makes many a Maine story so likeable. Jabish Furlong, who worked for old man McKusick in having time, had it.

"I had the greatest luck out gunning the other day," said Jabish. "I was walking a log across a deep hole in the brook when I see a squirrel up a spruce on the fender bank. I up right there and fired, and I fetched down the squirrel and a partridge besides that was settin' in the spruce boddin'. But the old gun kicked me into the brook. Well, I floundered around, catchin' hold of everything within reach, and when I found myself up on the bank, I had a mink in one hand, a muskquash in t'other and the seal's mer pants was full o' trout."

An Englishman's Retort.

He had just arrived from old England and his friend, a prominent clubman, was showing him the city. In our euburbs they noticed a neatly fixed-up candy store, which greatly surprised the stranger, and he inquired how that could be made to pay. The clubman remarked in answer:

"Why, I don't believe he can make his salt there."

The Englishman seemed bewildered, and adjusting his monocle, said:

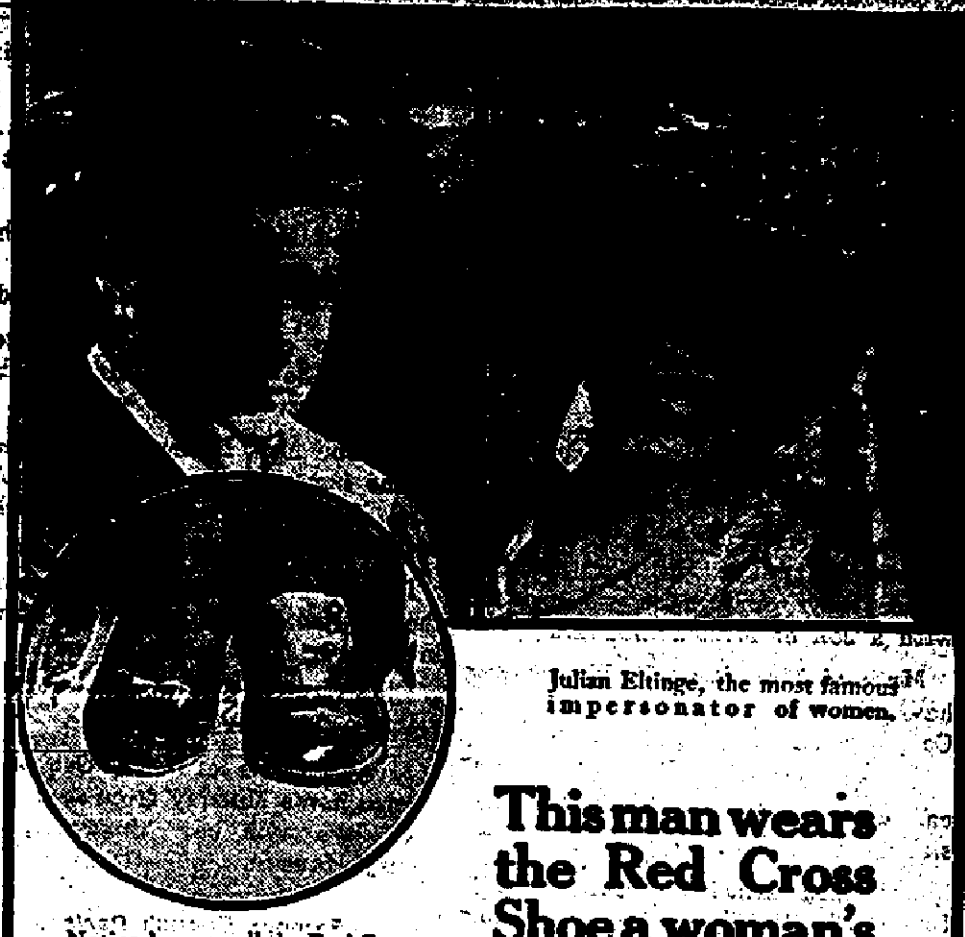

"How strange! Do you expect a man in this country to make salt in a sweet shop?"

Haw! Haw!

Reverted.

Tourist (to Indian standing beside a pile of arrow heads, etc.)—Heap scrap?

Indian—Nope! Scrap heap. I'm just waiting to sell the lot to the first eastern junk curio dealer that comes along this way.—Puck.

Julian Eltinge, the most famous impersonator of women.

This man wears the Red Cross Shoe a woman's shoe, and finds it wonderfully comfortable and easy. Read his reasons.

Notice how small the Red Cross Shoe makes his foot appear.

DEAR SIR:—

"The Red Cross shoe is the only shoe in the market which entirely fills the bill. I was first charmed by the variety of styles, which covers every possible desire of the wearer. The all-important reason is the fact that I can wear a much smaller shoe in the Red Cross than in any other, which is particularly essential in my case."

"I find the Red Cross shoe perfectly comfortable, wearing even a smaller shoe than one my size would naturally wear. The perfect flexibility of the sole, which so truly bends with your foot, ends all stiff-soled shoes which at every step cause the foot to rub against the sole, until it burns and throbs to an unbearable degree."

Yours very truly,
JULIAN ELTINGE.

You will be just as enthusiastic. Come in and let us show you the latest models in the Red Cross Shoe. Oxfords $3.50 and $4. High Shoes $4, $4.50 and $5.

Our Strange Disasters.

How extraordinary are our American disasters. New York alone has had a series of picturesque accidents that is most remarkable. The great fire in the Hoboken docks when mighty steamships drifted up and down stream ablaze from stem to stern; the dreadful Bloomsburg holocaust, and, more recently, the destructive explosion in the New York Central power house, all have been unlike anything with which European cities are familiar. Now the blowing up of a scow of dynamite kills a score of people and shakes the skyscrapers of Manhattan on their earth-piercing foundations. There is panic and confusion through miles of city streets. The damage is put at almost a million dollars. In dramatic strangeness the happenings in our cities stand alone. Only the incredible "Battle of Stapey" which London recently offered can be compared to them.

From That Time On Unmarried Women Are "Old Maids," Says Boston Y. W. C. A.

When does a woman cease to be young? Woman herself, for reasons that require no elaboration here, decides, as a rule, to fix the period. Masculine authorities, for the most part, are chary of venturing upon such dangerous ground. Hence the question has ever been involved in uncertainty and it would perhaps remain so were it not that a responsible authority—none other than the Young Woman's Christian association, the title of which indicates its competency—comes to the front with a decision which may fairly be accepted as conclusive. It is to the Boston branch of the association that the world is indebted for the solution of the problem. The occasion for solving it arose from the completion of a new home for the young women of the association in the Massachusetts city. In framing rules for this establishment, it was found necessary to specify precisely the limit of young womanhood, beyond which the benefits of the home could not be enjoyed. This has been fixed at 35 years. Up to that age a young woman comes within the meaning of the title as understood by the association and may enjoy the advantages of membership and residence in the home. On reaching her thirty-fifth birthday she must resign her quarters. On that day her young womanhood ceases and the "old maid" label is placed upon her indelibly and irrevocably. Thus the matter is settled beyond further cavil or dispute.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Butting In.

The adopted word "debut" is from the French. It means butting in, and adds the Louisville Courier-Journal, paying entrance fees that are often disproportionate to the rewards of arrival.

ed for Rites at St.

ed to March in Parad-Feor-
mer Pastors Coming

are expected on Sunday for the cor-
nue. Imposing ceremonies will attend the laying of the corner stone and a
Keesport has been especially delegated by Bishop Regis Canavin to have
of the ceremony. Rev. Robert Mc-Donald of Bladock, the first pastor
deacon, and Rev. T. A. Conner of
will act as sub-deacon. Rev. C. M.
Hegerich of Allegheny will preach
the sermon. M. T. Crowley will be
the chief marshal of the parade.

up Ninth to Fallowfield, thence up
Third and out Washington to Eighth
convey the clergy and elderly men unable to march.

the incoming trains. There will be
lowing men as his aides: George Newton, John Fries, J. K. Riekey, John Maines, D. A. Oates, J. B.
Schaefer, John Kuth, P. J. Connolly, P. G. Bailey, George Pepperney, Michael Dooley, William Peeney, Patrick Acton, John Sullivan, John W. Carroll,

Hemion, George Bailey, James Welsh Edward Callaghan, Thomas Mangan, Joseph Brand, W. J. Martin.

Wellington Hotel.

which translated is "Church of St.
Jerome's" has been cut in the stone.
Numerous documents, papers and
ceptacle in the stone.

company that will figure as an addition to their local large plant is not more than started yet, it is said
is superintendent.

This addition according to infor-
at the back or river side of the present decorating room. It will extend
do now.

on. This plant is to be used partly
for the manufacture of novelty ware.

Glass Worker Dies.

Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock,
o'clock with services at St. Cyril and

When Harry Tilton, who is a town Tuesday evening. Miss Gribben
covering the young schoolmaster in the manner of the bad men in the
travel, and at the point of the revolver marched him out of the house.
—just as they do in the moving pic-

for her appearance at a hearing before Justice of the Peace of A. B.
lives.

This sensational episode was pulled

bookkeeper at the Pittsburg and Erie coal mine at Burgettstown.
sistently refused to remove her hat,
so. Tuesday evening, it is stated a
on a slip of paper and she would en-
ten. Tilton, who occupied a seat in

guests of Castner lodge at Donora
were about 74 past grands present,
lodge men from Washington, Canons-
Lodge, No. 1030, I. O. O. F. attended.
Fifteen new members were received
into the association, which now numbers nearly 150. The next meeting will be held in Finleyville in July.

pended on the reconstruction of Lock
No. 1 in the Monongahela river will
ment by constructing this lock itself
has saved it is estimated about $30, 000. Col. T. P. Roberts is in charge of the work, with J. M. Myers as his assistant.

Both the locks are really in work-
reduce the cost of operating.

The dam intersects with P. and L.
E. abutments, on one end. These
yard space.

Brilliance and enchantment char-
Pittsburg Wednesday evening. Gor-
clothes of the sir knights with an occasional full Templar uniform showing here and there, myriads of glittering lights, with the dignified passion cross and the maltese cross, crown and sword of Knights Templar gleaming in the decorations—all these lent to the unusual gayety of the occasion.

Masons, with their ladies and sons
under 21 years of age to the number
memorable. Past officers of the
constituted honor guests. Most notable among these honor guests were Right Eminent Grand Commander
Herman Junker of Pittsburg. Comir there also for the event from Yoi was Deputy Grand Commander Har-E. Buckingham, who will be at the coming annual state convocate to be held in Pittsburg in May to succeed Grand Commander Junker. The affair was the principal event in Masonic circles preceding the fifty-ninth annual State convocate to be held in Pittsburg.

The decorative scheme was excep-
blue lights twinkling successively, giving the effect of stars was particu-
at 10 o'clock.

brilliance of the function. Capt J.
K. Hein of McKean Commandery was
nurses. Among those from this vicinity who attended were: E. B. Anderson and daughter, Monessen; Dr.

Some Notes From Your Game Warden

SMALL GAME SEASON

Resident and nonresident hunters, several hundreds of thousands of them, are making final preparations in anticipation of the small game season which opens in Pennsylvania this Saturday. The Game Commission offers sportsmen these reminders and suggestions: (1) Nine (9:00) o'clock is the opening hour the first day of season, October 31st. (Otherwise, daily shooting hours are 7 A. M. to 5 P. M.) (2) Start driving to the hunting location early so that speed on the highway will not be the cause of a wreck. (3) When enroute to and from hunting, and particularly when afield, be extremely careful of fire in any form. (4) Don't over-exert. (5) Always point firearms in a safe direction. Make sure target is not a human. (6) Wear hunting apparel that will be readily seen by the other hunters. (7) Study the season and bag limit information given on your hunting license. (8) Play it safe all around. Hunting is both enjoyable and beneficial. There are no regrets when it is done safely, sensibly. The state's game authorities expect considerable satisfaction over the small game prospects for the upcoming season. Generally, the cottontail rabbit population is up over that of 1952. Ringneck pheasants are more plentiful than for several years. Latest field reports indicate goose hunting will be at least as good as in the '52 season. Squirrels are on the move, indicating a lack of natural foods in quantities, but likely there will be a good take of bushy-tails against this fall. A general increase in wild turkeys is reported over the great birds' range. Raccoons are abundant almost everywhere in the state. The populous woodchuck is legal game in November, as well as in all the hunting license period. There is no open season this year on bobwhite quail, Hungarian partridges, hen pheasants or sharp-tailed grouse.

SOLD AND LOST
In the Pennsylvania license year that ended August 31, 1953, license sales totaled 880,779 for residents and 32,942 for nonresidents. The resident license figure includes 632 free licenses issued to resident disabled war veterans. Interesting to note, 2,539 residents had 60 nonresident hunters lost their license and secured a replacement for $1.00 as required by law.

GOOD DEER HUNT

According to early information it appears rather certain the archery buck deer season, ending October 24th, will prove to have been the most successful enjoyed thus far in the Keystone State. Licenses sold for the special bow and arrow season numbered about 10,600 this year. Bow hunters who bagged a buck are reminded their kill must be reported to the Game Commission within five days after the close of the archery season.

NONRESIDENT HUNTING

The Game Commission has received numerous inquiries whether a so-called "tourist hunting license" for nonresidents is available in the Commonwealth. Pennsylvania does not offer a general short-term hunting license to persons residing outside the state. However, an act passed by the 1953 Legislature amends the Game Law to allow licensed owners or operators of regulated shooting grounds, who have qualified as agents of the Department of Revenue, to sell three-day nonresident hunting licenses for use on regulated shooting grounds only. To obtain such a license, a person must (1) Be 16 years of age or older; (2) Make application in writing to an authorized agent on a form prescribed by the Game Commission; (3) Present proof he or she is a nonresident of Pennsylvania but a citizen of the United States (naturalized foreign-born nonresidents must produce naturalization papers); (4) Pay $3.15 for a "Three-Day Special Regulated Shooting Grounds License," which shall be valid for three consecutive days, Sundays excluded. The new act provides: Such a license entitles the lawful holder thereof to "hunt, take or kill, on lawfully operated regulated shooting grounds, all wild birds and wild animals which may be legally hunted, taken or killed in this Commonwealth on such grounds, and to participate in a shoot held thereon under a regulated shooting grounds permit."

DAD-SON HUNTING

Hunting is an exciting, invigorating sport enjoyed safely by hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians annually, but there are too many hunting accidents that mar this great sport. An encouraging sign of safety training is reflected in the growing number of men who each year take their sons or neighbor boys hunting. This year, the small game season opens on a Saturday, the last day of Hunt Safely Week. Many school boys will go hunting on that day, and many a father's heart will be gladdened by experiences afield with a son or a daughter. A safe hunting trip is a successful trip.

GOOD OMEN
Offered bi-weekly, the United States Steel Hour promises toarken back to the days of Celine Theater. Alex Segal, who boomed the C-show to success in bi-weekly series, is at the helm for United States Steel. Segal's dramas, when the sponsorship ended, were dead because the show was such a success that Celine became part of the format. No other firm would pick up the tag. Segal of course continued in other TV dramatic fields, and now he's teamed up with the steel firm and the Theater Guild for what promises to be another top-rated drama. United States Steel has dropped its Theater Guild of the Air, a radio show. The ABC Network, with a Tuesday night on its hands every other week, has lined up another firm, and electric appliance maker, for a TV hour, to begin Dec. 1. It will alternate with United States Steel to bring top-notch dramatic shows each week at 9:30 p. m. The firm takes pride, it says, in joining United States Steel and the ABC Network in presenting "television fare of such outstanding quality."

Famous English Parish.

In addition to its alien population, bygone Stepney was credited with a large number of the citizens of other towns on account of the current notion that all children born at sea belonged to the parish of Stepney, a notion probably due to the large number of sailors who lived there. Paupers who had been born at sea were gravely sent to Stepney from all parts of the country, and from time to time the law courts had to be called upon to decide against their claims.—London Chronicle.

The Danger After Grip

Weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy, and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys often follow an attack of this wretched disease. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the glorious tonic, blood purifier and regulator of stomach, liver and kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system and restore to health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50 cents. Sold and perfect satisfaction guaranteed by W. F. Hennings.

FOUR FLEA POWER OF WATCH.

Few pieces of machinery show more wonderful features than that of the watch. As a general proposition it may be stated that a watch is the smallest, most delicate instrument of the same number of parts that has ever been devised.

About 175 different pieces of material enter into its construction and upward of 2,000 separate operations are comprised in its manufacture. Certain of the facts connected with its performance are almost incredible when considered as a whole.

A blacksmith strikes several hundred blows on his anvil in a day and as a matter of course is glad when Sunday comes, but the miller jewel of a watch makes every day—and day after day—432,000 impacts against the fork, or 157,680,000 blows during the course of a year without stop or rest—or some 3,536,000 blows during the space of twenty years, the period for which a watch is usually guaranteed to keep good time.

But the wonder of it does not cease here says the Michigan Manufacturer. It has been calculated that the power that moves the watch is equivalent to only four times the force used in a flea's jump. The watch power is therefore what might be termed the equivalent of a four flea-power. One horse-power would suffice to operate 770,000 watches.

Furthermore the balance wheel of a watch is moved by this four flea-power 1.43 inches with each vibration, or 3,536 miles continuously in one year. Not much oil is required to lubricate the little machine on its 3,500 mile run. It takes only one-tenth of a drop of oil to oil the entire machinery for a year's service.

Frank P. Ward, writing for Harper's Weekly, declares that the men who cater to the hunger and thirst of the wealthy in New York make a profit of anything up to 300 per cent. For this condition he blames a class of restaurant patrons whom he describes as "persons who turn up their noses at eggs with grated cheese, 25 cents, but go into ecstasies over omeurs a la reine, $1—exactly the same dish." To descend a little in the scale, says Mr. Ward, "beef and" establishments are highly profitable; a fact which, as he points out, goes to show that if these can coin money at five and ten cents a "throw," the others can do better.

There is undeniably a deal of sound sense in Mr. Ward's arraignment of ultra-fastidious person who ecstatically pays 25 cents for food and 75 cents additional for a French name to go with it. The person of that temperament is evidently convinced that grub by a more genteel name would taste as sweet, and is determined to eat it by the other name, cost what it may. Why eat "vittles" when, by merely paying a quadruple price, one may have nouriture? Why, indeed! If French names for Yankee dishes serve best to keep in circulation the money of the finical rich, by all means put them up in French.—Manchester Union

"Well, that all depends upon how you look at it. Take it in the market, it's cheap enough, twenty-five or thirty cents a dozen ears. But I have to eat in restaurants, and there I would have to pay ten cents an ear or $1.20 a dozen for it. Now, where do you suppose the restaurants get the courage to charge that much for serving hot what costs them only one-fourth that much in the raw state? If the corn were difficult of preparation for the table, if it took much trouble in the cooking or if it required elaborate sauces it would be different. But corn on the cob is the simplest thing a restaurant can serve, and for one, I don't purpose to let them make any 300 per cent. profit out of me on their old corn."

Shakespeare in 1793.

What, we wonder, would happen to the London manager nowadays who should dare to put on the stage such a version of a Shakespearean tragedy as was played in Ireland a hundred years ago? Mrs. Earle in her book, "Memoirs and Memories," gives a Dublin play bill in 1793, which is worth quoting.

The play was "the tragedy of Hamlet," originally written and composed by the celebrated Dan Hayes of Limerick and inserted in Shakespeare's works." The title role is taken by a gentleman "who between the acts will perform several solos on the patent bagpipe, which performs two tunes at the same time."

Double Action.

Young Hopeful—Father, what is a traitor in politics?

Veteran Politician—A traitor is a man who leaves our party and goes over to the other one.

Young Hopeful—Well, then, what is a man who leaves his party and comes over to yours?

Veteran Politician—A convert, my son.—Tit-Bits.

Oh, How I Itched!

What long nerve-racking days of constant torture—what sleepless nights of terrible agony—itch—itch—itch, constant itch, until it seemed that I must tear off my very skin—that—

Instant relief—my skin cooled, soothed and healed! The very first drops of D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema stopped that awful itch instantly; yes, the very moment D.D.D. touched the burning skin the torture ceased. A 25c bottle proves it. D.D.D. has been known for years as the only absolutely reliable eczema remedy, for it washes away the disease germs and leaves the skin as clear and healthy as that of a child.

All other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

Sportraits

By JOHNNY BUNARDZYA
MAIL SPORTS EDITOR

With Election Day—the day every true American exercises his rights and not those of others—just around the corner, Etacoin (Swami) Shrdin, The Mail's grid guesser, will make like a politician by trying to win friends and influence people with more of his crystal ball gazing.

The old boy's stock as a pigskin prophet took a slight dip last week when out of 48 games he pulled in 37, ten went astray and only one wound up even. For the record, Swami's looked at 296 games this season, has called 232 correctly, 55 have backfired and nine ended in ties for an overall mark of .784—two points off last week's pace.

When you go to the polls, vote for the man of your choice. For the time being, look at Swami's choices, but don't take his word for them.

DISTRICT SCHOLASTIC

CHARLEROI over Monessen—Anything can and usually does happen when these two get together. With only fierce pride at stake, this year's no exception. It looks as a battle of also-rans that can go either way and whoever wins can call an otherwise mediocre season a 'success'.

DONORA over Monongahela—With one foot inside the door, the title-conscious Dragons step into the Big Six throne room without too much trouble against the luckless and hapless 'Cats.

BROWNSVILLE over Carmichaels—There's nothing more humiliating to a Class AA team than to be upended by a Class B opponent. It happened to the Brownies in '52 and they haven't forgotten.

WASHINGTON over Redstone—Two more evenly-matched teams, but the Little Prezies rate a slight edge over the Hawks because of the home field advantage which always seems to help.

BELLMAR over North Union—This is Halloween week and if the unbeaten but once-tied 'Canes aren't careful, Old Man Upset is apt to rear his ugly head and spoil their bid for a big season.

ELIZABETH over Rostraver—The Leps, after being battered from pillar to post, finally meet their match in the Warriors, but there's that home field edge to consider again.

RANKIN over Bentleyville—All we know about the Jack-rabbits is that they have a better record than the Bears, which is reason enough to pick 'em in what should be a close game.

ELLSWORTH over West Beth—With both teams nicknamed 'Tigers', there should be plenty of clawing in what shapes up as a rip-snorter, with West Beth on the rebound from its first defeat of the season.

PT. MARION over Centerville—The Wildcats apparently are running out of steam, while the Pouters are at their peak in another corking good Class B contest.

E. HUNTINGDON over West Newton—The Hornets surprised everyone when they held Ellsworth to a scoreless draw, but they'll be meeting the Bulldogs in their own backyard.

CALIFORNIA over Waynesburg—Both teams are having lean seasons, but the Trojans still rate a slight edge because of their more formidable schedule.

SWAMI SPECIALS

Connellsville over Uniontown—Upset of the day.
Dunbar over Scottsdale—Pick the home team.
Jefferson over Masontown—Too much power.
Bethlehem Jt. over Fairbance—Just a breeze.

Perryopolis over S. Huntingdon—Flip a coin.

This Year's 'Hounds Team of Future

CHS Juniors Skin Little 'Cats, 34-6

Charleroi Junior High improved its chances of winning up the football season on a 'winning' note last night by outclassing a smaller but plucky Monongahela eleven, 34-6, at Wildcat Stadium in Monongahela.

The victory was Charleroi's fourth against three 'backups' with the season finals with Braddock coming up next Wednesday afternoon at 3:15. The defeat was only the second of the season for the Little 'Cats against one victory and a tie.

Locals Explode

After a scoreless first period, Coach George Chacko's proteges exploded for two TDs early in the second period and were off to the races. A blocked punt by Billy Fentz, late in the first quarter, set up the first score and the payoff came on the first play of the second stanza when Carl Witmyer, lofted a pass good for 29 yards to Johnny Lenhart. Larry Pucci plunged the extra point.

The Little Cougars hiked their margin to 14-0 a few minutes later after Witmyer, who played his last game of the season offensively and defensively, stepped in front of a Monongahela aerial on the MHS 36. After a running play gained six, Witmyer hit Pucci with a pass in the flat and the little fullback sidestepped two Little 'Cats to go into the end zone standing up. Lenhart tackled on the extra point on a buck lateral pitchout.

Fumble Sets Up TD

George Schoener's recovery of the fumbled kickoff on the Little 'Cats 30 at the start of the third quarter set the stage for the third marker, which came on a six-yard heave from Witmyer to Lenhart. A 13-yard gallop by Joe Uhlman, who took over for injured Don Baker at right half, was the "key" play in the drive. On the extra point play, Lenhart passed to Witmyer.

On the ensuing kickoff, Monongahela's Sam Wynn ran it back 36 yards to the Charleroi 39 and after a line play lost a yard, Freddy Cox fired a missile over the center to John Harber who caught the ball on the CHS 20 and reversed his field to go all the way for the losers' only tally.

The Little Cougars added another pair of markers in the final period, first of which was the result of a fumbled pass from center on a fourth down punt situation by the Monongahelans. Taking over on the MHS 25, the locals sprung Uhlman loose for 21 yards and the promising halfback took it over on the next play. Pucci's plunge for the extra point was stopped short.

Drive 72 Yards

The last touchdown climaxed a 72-yard march which featured Witmyer's passing. One of his tosses to Don Zelenski gained 21 yards and another to Ron Zelenski added 14 more to reach the Monongahela 55. After D. Zelenski dropped a sure-fire TD pass in the end zone, Witmyer rambled for 12 yards to the middle on his favorite trap play to reach the MHS 23. Lenhart then passed for 13 yards to Witmyer who covered the remaining 10 yards in two running plays by sneaking over from the 3. Tiny Don Reeves ended the scoring when he ran for the extra point.

The Monongahelans threatened only on one other occasion. After Wynn raced 40 yards on a kickoff to the CHS 80, a Dee Galiffa pass gained 11 more yards. The threat was wiped out when Ralph Bryner snatched an enemy pass out of the air on the CHS 2. Two plays later, the game ended.

First downs favored Charleroi, 8 to 3.

Bellmar Seeks No. 6 in Final Home Appearance

Unless the weatherman interferes, Bellmar High's unbeaten but once-tied Hurricanes will make their final home appearance tonight before the most important people in the world to them—their mothers and fathers.

'Parents Night' will be an added sidelight as the Hurricanes go after their sixth triumph at the expense of North Union at Bellmar Stadium. Kickoff will be at 8 o'clock.

Uwe Rams Deb

Playing for their parents should be incentive enough for the 'Canes' to do their level best, but they're also thinking of squaring a debt they owe the Rams who thumped Bellmar last season.

But if Coach Bap Manzin's charges think they have a soft touch in North Union, they're in for a rude jolt. The Rams, despite their unglittering 2-and-4 record, staged one of the top upsets in Fayette County earlier in the season when they spilled highly-touted Dunbar, 14-12. They also took Ramsay into camp, 7-0.

The Rams Record

Only a 6-6 deadlock with Bethel, which cost the 'Canes a shot at the Class A title, marks an otherwise perfect Bellmar record. They own impressive victories over Perryopolis (12-0), St. Vincent Prep (20-0), Elizabeth (20-7), Rostraver (31-0) and California (14-6).

In other district games tonight, Perryopolis tries for its third win at South Huntingdon, Masontown and Jefferson renew their keen rivalry on the former's field, Mapletown shows at East Washington and Dunbar, Bellmar's foe in the season finale next week, entertains underrated Scottsdale.

Lenhart Plays For Pitt Frosh

Charleroi's Jimmy Lenhart is expected to be in the starting lineup for the Pitt Freshmen Friday night when they go after their second straight win of the season against the Kent State Freshmen on the Ohio school's field.

The Pitt yearlings, coached by Steve Petro, opened with a 19-3 triumph over Penn State frosh last week. Earlier, they defeated the Carnegie Tech varsity, 20-6, in a "practice" game.

Lenhart, a quarterback who was on the throwing end of a 73-yard pass for the Panther Cubs' first TD against Penn State, alternates with Con Salvaterra.

Kickoff for the Kent State tilt is 7:30. The Pitt squad, which also features Mon Valley products in regular end Bob Rosborough of Donora and tackle Joe Cindrich of Redstone, will depart from Pittsburgh by bus at 11:30 a. m.

Castellani Wants Olson for Christmas

CLEVELAND, Oct. 29—(UP)—Christmas still is nearly two months away, but Manager Al Nieman said today he already knows what he wants to get his middle-weight protege, Rocky Castellani, for a present.

"A shot at the title—that's what we want," Nieman said. "When Bob Olson puts it on the block, we want to be the first ones there. Rocky deserves it."

Castellani, ranked third among the country's 160 pounders, earned Nieman's ambitions Wednesday night with an impressive, unanimous decision over Mickey Laurent of France. In the top-sided, nationally televised and broadcast bout, every scorecard gave Castellani, a Cleveland, at least 8 of the 10 rounds.

Steelers Boast NFL's Top Punt Artist in Pat Brady

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29—(UP)—The folks in Seattle who remember a rangy kid who spent long hours kicking a football in lower Woodland Park a dozen years ago, aren't surprised today to learn that Pat Brady is the leading punter of the National Football League.

The southpaw kicker, now in his second year with the Pittsburgh Steelers, sustains his season-long lead with an average of 49.6 yards per punt. Bob Smith of the Detroit Lions is second with 45.3 yards.

Does Nothing But Punt

Even in the age of professional football specialists, Brady is a rarity. Although he is listed as a quarterback, he has been inserted in the Steeler lineup only on fourth downs when a punter is needed.

Lou Groza is the Cleveland Browns' ace place-kicker, but he varies his specialty with duty as an offensive tackle.

Brady realizes his gridiron forte is punting, but he yearns for a chance to try his passing ability against professional competition. He threw from the T-formation when he played college ball with Nevada and Bradley.

Takes Lots of Practice

Of them only three punners last year," Brady laughed. "One of them connected for a 14-ya d gain."

Brady believes his punting prowess is 1 per cent inherited and 99 per cent practice.

"My father, John Brady, was Wasps Scalp Chiefs, 7-2

By UNITED PRESS

The Buffalo Bisons, treating last year's champions most disrespectfully with two shellackings in two days, served notice today that they intend to replace the Cleveland Barons as kings of the American Hockey League.

The Bisons whipped the Barons Tuesday night on the Barons' home ice, 4-3, to take over the lead and Wednesday night in Buffalo they added insult to injury by thrashing the Barons again, 8-2, to boost their newly-won hold on first place to 3 points.

In other games played Wednesday night, the Pittsburgh Hornets trounced the Syracuse Chiefs, 7-2, to retain third place while the Hershey Bears clipped Providence, 6-3, to take sole possession of fourth place.

Danny Lewicki of Pittsburgh notched four goals in the Hornets' victory over the Chiefs. The Hornets started off with 3 goals in the first period and were never headed.

Panthers Revamped For Gopher Battle

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29—(UP)—Coach Red Dawson takes his University of Pittsburgh grid squad to Minneapolis by plane Friday morning for Saturday's TV scrap with Minnesota.

Although Dawson said earlier he contemplated no lineup changes, he performed a switch Wednesday and announced Gene Stenavre will replace Johnny Jacobs at left halfback and Joe Los will take over at right guard for John Cenci.

Dawson primed his charges this week to halt Minnesota's powerful single wing attack after a steady diet of T-formation opponents.

With All American candidate Paul Giel as its spearhead, the Gophers last weekend upset previously unbeaten Michigan, 22-0. The Gophers have yet to lose to Pitt since the series with the Panthers, started 20 years ago.

TRY THE MAIL CLASSIFIEDS FOR THE QUICKEST RESULTS

But They'll Give Cougars All They Can Handle Friday

This year's Monessen High football team may be short on experience and size, but they're long on spirit and promise.

Which is ample reason why Charleroi High's in-and-out Cougars are in for a rugged time when they renew their grid feud with the arch-rival 'Hounds Friday night at the Stadium here.

Despite the fact both teams are experiencing what could be called a lean season, upward of 7000 fans are expected to watch the first renewal of the upper Mon Valley's most colorful and traditional rivalry.

Switch to T

Coached by Armand Nicolai, a Charleroi High product who later coached for the Pittsburgh Steelers and serving his seventh successive season at the helm, the 'Hounds come here as a T-formation aggregation for the first time in seven years.

That they have made the difficult switch from the single-wing to the more popular T is borne out by the fact they've won three games while losing four, none by lopsided scores. They started with two straight wins over Rostraver (12-0) and Monongahela (12-0) and upset Trinity (14-13) after being upended by unbeaten, untied Uniontown (33-13), one of five teams still in the running for Class AA WPIAL honors.

Own Three Wins
 Since the Trinity clash, the Black & White have had rough going while losing their last three starts to Brownsville (20-7), Redstone (13-0) and New Castle (35-13), another 'AA' powerhouse with an unblemished record marred only by a tie.

Significantly, Monessen is only the second team to score on New Castle this season, another indication the 'Hounds are a better team than the record shows. Against New Castle, they blossomed into a dangerous passing team, tossing the ball 26 times and completing 12 for 233 yards.

Without question, this year's 'Hounds are a team of the future, what with only four seniors on the squad and three of them in the probable starting lineup for tomorrow's battle-royal. They lost 19 members from last year's big and bulky squad which bowed to CHS, 20-7. One of the three veterans is deadweight Dick Wink (165) who operates as the quarterback and handles practically all of the passing.

With 'Key' Player
 With Wink to throw and hand off, Nicolai has a pair of speedsters in halfbacks Mel Mills (130) and Arnold Rice (180), a pair of juniors who are capable of going all the way if they see daylight. They flank fullback Bob Hewitt (185), a sophomore who not only is a dangerous runner, but also a favorite for Wink's passes.

Other two seniors on the first eleven for the 'Hounds are the guards, Delmar Mosely (175) and Neil Hill (170). A pair of sophomores, center John Mallino (195) and Pete Appesos (185), give the forewell that hefty look, along with tackle Denny Troychak (210), a junior. On the terminals will be Tony Crisi (180), a converted tackle, and pass-catching Eddie Galaski (165), both juniors.

Two Regulars Out

Two regulars who are sidelined with ankle injuries and unlikely to see action are John Appesos (185), a senior who plays in the line as well as in the backfield, and halfback Bob Bakera.

Four juniors and a sophomore—end George Loukas—are shuffled in and out of the lineup to almost qualify as regulars. The quartet of juniors are halfback Lou Mavra-

Get Ready, You Hunters!

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29—(UP)—Gov. John S. Fine's announcement late Wednesday that the opening of the small game season would not be postponed alerted Pennsylvania sportsmen for their annual forays into Penn's woods in quest of small game.

The governor said in a late afternoon statement that the season would open on schedule on Saturday because the opinion of most conservation experts in the state administration was that sufficient rain had fallen to dampen fire hazards.

Fine made the decision on the advice of the heads of the state Forest and Waters Department and the state Game Commission. The latter made a quick survey of weather reports after Tuesday night's moderate to heavy rains before reporting to the governor that enough had fallen to make it safe for large numbers of sportsmen to be in the field. The small game season runs until Nov. 28.

A little over a century ago there were hundreds of great ladies in England who made their drawing rooms regular gambling dens, and many in the most exalted social positions lost, or won, as the case might be, thousands of dollars in a single night's play. The royal princesses did not hesitate to play for the highest stakes and a faro bank was a portion of the paraphernalia of Dame Fashion.

Queen Elizabeth was fond of cards, but she was inclined to be somewhat peevish and lost her temper at the game. Mary, Queen of the Scots, carried her infatuation to the extent of wagering her personal attire on a game. She would play continually from Saturday to Monday, and sacrifice her wardrobe, if necessary, to do so. Queen Ann of Austria was fairly pursued by ill luck, we are told, but she is said to have played without passion or greed.

Anne Boleyn was an inveterate gambler, as were all the wives of Henry VIII, with one exception—Catherine of Aragon did not gamble, as she had no love for the card table. Nell Gwyn lost 400 guineas one night to the niece of a notorious gambler, Mazarin, who afterward died insolvent, having lost at cards an enormous fortune left to her by her cardinal uncle. Cards are still popular among the hostesses of many of the English drawing rooms, but not to the extent they were a century ago.

Jabish Furlong's Recital Illustrates the Characteristic That Makes Maine Stories So Amusing.

Novel and exaggerated smiles and comparisons characterize Maine speech. Instead of such commonplaces as "As light as a feather" and "As dark as a pocket," the comparisons are likely to be "Forty pounds lighter than a straw hat" and "As dark as the inside of a cow."

And it is this same humorous exaggeration that makes many a Maine story so likeable. Jabish Furlong, who worked for old man McKusick in haying time, had it.

"I had the greatest luck out gunning the other day," said Jabish. "I was walking a log across a deep hole in the brook. When I see a squirrel up a spruce on the furred bank. I up right there and fired, and I fetched down the squirrel and a partridge besides that was settin' in the spruce buddin'. But the old gun kicked me into the brook. Well, I floundered around, catchin' hold of everything within reach, and when I found myself on the bank, I had a mink in one hand, a musquash in t'other and the sea o' mer pants was full o' trout."

An Englishman's Retort.

The Englishman seemed bewildered, and adjusting his monocle, said: "How strange! Do you expect a man in this country to make salt in a sweet shop?"

"The Red Cross shoe is the only shoe in the market which entirely fills the bill. I was first charmed by the variety of styles, which covers every possible desire of the wearer. The all-important reason is the fact that I can wear a much smaller shoe in the Red Cross than in any other, which is particularly essential in my case."

"I find the Red Cross shoe perfectly comfortable, wearing even a smaller shoe than one my size would naturally wear. The perfect flexibility of the sole, which so truly bends with your foot, ends all stiff-soled shoes which at every step cause the foot to rub against the sole, until it burns and throbs to an unbearable degree."

Our Strange Disasters.

How extraordinary are our American disasters. New York alone has had a series of picturesque accidents that is most remarkable. The great fire in the Hoboken docks when mighty steamships drifted up and down stream ablaze from stem to stern; the dreadful Slocum holocaust, and, more recently, the destructive explosion in the New York Central power house, all have been unlike anything with which European cities are familiar. Now the blowing up of a scow of dynamite kills a score of people and shakes the skyscrapers of Manhattan on their earth-piercing foundations. There is panic and confusion through miles of city streets. The damage is put at almost a million dollars. In dramatic strangeness the happenings in our cities stand alone. Only the incredible "Battle of Steiner" which London recently offered can be compared to them.

When does a woman cease to be young? Woman herself, for reasons that require no elaboration here, declares, as a rule, to fix the period. Masculine authorities, for the most part, are chary of venturing upon such dangerous ground. Hence the question has ever been involved in uncertainty and it would perhaps remain so were it not that a responsible authority—none other than the Young Woman's Christian association, the title of which indicates its competency—comes to the front with a decision which may fairly be accepted as conclusive. It is to the Boston branch of the association that the world is indebted for the solution of the problem. The occasion for solving it arose from the completion of a new home for the young women of the association, in the Massachusetts city. In framing rules for this establishment, it was found necessary to specify precisely the limit of young womanhood, beyond which the benefits of the home could not be enjoyed. This has been fixed at 35 years. Up to that age a young woman comes within the meaning of the title as understood by the association and may enjoy the advantages of membership and residence in the home. On reaching her thirty-fifth birthday she must resign her quarters. On that fatal day her young womanhood ceases and the "old maid" label is placed upon her indelibly and irrevocably. Thus the matter is settled beyond further cavil or dispute.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.
